Ref: 15214_1062484 Date: 4 – 8 October 2027 Location: Nairobi (Kenya) Fees: 5300 Euro

Strategic HR Change Management in the Banking Sector Course is a one-week course for HR teams and department heads in banks who must turn the bank's strategic plan into workforce, hiring, reward and succession decisions. It works through branch restructuring, digital channels and role redesign as they affect people. You build a Bank HR Transformation Plan for your own institution. Mercury Training Center runs this course for banking HR.

About This Course

Banks reshape branch networks, move customers to digital channels and tighten cost targets, yet HR often learns of the plan after the decisions are made. To follow the course you should already work in or with a bank's HR function. You practice on banking cases, workforce data and HR cost figures, one decision at a time.

Who It Is For

- People who lead a bank's HR function and sit in its planning discussions
- People who run recruitment, learning or reward for branches and head office
- People who head business departments and own headcount and restructuring decisions
- People who plan the bank's workforce and succession for critical roles
- People who analyze HR costs and report results to the executive committee

This course is not for readers new to HR, who are better served by a foundation course in HR practice, or for HR staff outside financial services, who are better served by a cross-sector HR transformation course.

Competencies You Will Build

- Plan-to-people translation: turns the bank's strategic goals into HR action plans with owners.
- Workforce shaping: sizes branch and head office teams and sets sensible spans of control.
- Talent acquisition design: selects bank staff with testing, profiling and behavioral interviews.
- Reward differentiation: links pay and bonus to measured contribution.
- Succession coverage: keeps critical bank roles covered through targeted plans and PDPs.
- HR return measurement: shows the cost and return of HR initiatives to the executive committee.

What You Will Be Able to Do

By the end of the course you will be able to:

Quick Answers FAQ

What should I know before a strategic HR change management course for banks?

You should already work in or with a bank's HR function or manage a team inside a bank. Familiarity with your bank's structure and planning cycle helps; no finance background is required.

How does banking sector HR change management differ from a general HR change course?

The banking course ties every HR decision to a bank's strategic planning cycle, branch networks, digital channels and critical roles such as credit and risk. A general HR change course uses cross-sector examples, which suits readers outside financial services.

Dubai - UAE: +971 4 450 5697
Istanbul - Türkiye: +90 539 599 1206
Amman - Jordan: +962 79 712 3347

What role does HR play in bank restructuring?

HR projects staffing needs, designs the new structure and spans, handles redeployment and release fairly, and protects critical roles through succession. Its input is most useful before branch or business line decisions are made.

What do I take back from a strategic HR change management course for banks?

You take back the Bank HR Transformation Plan, built on your own bank's goals. It holds an HR action plan, a workforce projection, a succession map and an HR ROI case.

For Your Manager

After the course, the team member will be able to link HR actions to the bank's strategic plan, project staffing for restructuring, redesign hiring, learning and reward, and measure HR returns. They return with a Bank HR Transformation Plan, first used to brief the executive committee and launch the next workforce or succession review.
