Introduction

According to the Harvard Business Review, 85% of the reason a person gets, keeps, and performs well in a job depends on their ATTITUDE and only 15% on their APTITUDE. Aptitude is your University degree, diploma, training, and knowledge. It has been found that most Companies spend almost all their training budget on technical and skill development.

However, today, cutting-edge companies and organizations are selecting and incorporating peak performance training and personal development to increase the performance and productivity of their staff.

The well-known Cox Report of American Business unequivocally stated that As many as 94% of the top executives of Fortune 500 Companies attributed their success more to ATTITUDE than any other ingredient! Professional excellence is primarily determined by harnessing and maximizing mind, attitude, and motivation power.
