Introduction

Every day, significant monies are made and lost by organizations as a result of the contractual terms and conditions governing contracts for purchasing goods, equipment, and services. Since contractual relationships govern all business activities, it is increasingly important for all those dealing with outside organizations to understand how to obtain the best possible agreement for their organization.

The essentials of contracting and contract negotiation course involve skills in negotiating and drafting the contract, managing the same, and mediating issues and disputes that may arise. The Module of the contract negotiation course will look at how contracts are created, some of the main clauses that appear in contracts, and many alternative contracting strategies and structures.

The contracting and contract negotiation course essentials will also consider third-party dispute resolution techniques. The second Module will cover the whole range of negotiations, reviewing the entire negotiation process and showing how a collaborative style of handling disputes or conflict maintains the win/win approach which was set before any dispute arose!
