Introduction:

Green bonds, which finance projects with environmental benefits, have passed the $1 trillion milestone for the amount issued since the first-ever green bond in 2007. A fast-growing sector is driving unprecedented demand for skilled professionals who comprehensively understand sustainable finance solutions, strategies, and the significance of governing sustainable finance.

This sustainable finance governance course aims to provide you with an in-depth grasp of the mechanics of green, social, and sustainability bonds and give you a straightforward understanding of sustainable finance as we delve into the big-picture policy context, market development drivers, main product features, and regulation. We will cover the Green and Social Bond Principles and the foundational Sustainable Finance Framework, including the new Sustainability-Linked Bond Principles, elucidating how they work in practice.

This encompasses evaluating and selecting eligible projects for funding, the role of external reviewers, and guidance on reporting. The sustainable finance governance course is enhanced with real-life examples and quizzes for each module. It is designed to equip you to apply practical knowledge effectively in the workplace.

Course Objectives:

By the end of this sustainable finance governance course, you will:

- Identify recent trends and potential future developments in green, social, and sustainability bonds, appreciating the importance of sustainable finance.
- Discuss why the sustainable finance market matters and how it operates.
- Understand foundational skills for participating in the GSS bond market and aligning and applying sustainable finance principles.
- Identify principles aligned issuance framework: pillars of GSS bonds.
- Define green and social: Types of projects eligible for GSS bonds.
- Recognize reporting frameworks and the importance of thorough and transparent reporting, including allocation and impact reports, alongside the templates offered by the GBP SBP.
- Comprehend the role and the added value of service providers, notably external reviewers, as foreseen by the GBP SBP and increasingly by regulators.
- Identify the perspectives and roles of the key players in the GSS bond market - regulators, investors, underwriters, issuers, and external reviewers, including rating agencies, stock exchanges, data, and index providers.
