Introduction:

This Operations Crew Resource Management OCRM course provides participants with the skills, tools, processes, and techniques to improve human performance while working as part of a crew/team during good operations. It emphasizes the importance of crew resource management CRM in maintaining safety during operations.

The Operations Crew Resource Management OCRM training focuses on the key principles of CRM as they relate to Well Operations: situation awareness, decision-making, communication, leadership/supervision, teamwork, and performance-shaping factors.

The aviation industry heavily relies on CRM to prevent accidents and improve flight safety. Through detailed discussion and analysis of crew resource management and aviation case studies, this course illustrates how CRM practices have evolved by examining past crew resource management and aviation accidents.

CRM is about managing crises and preventing them by using crew resource management tools. Participants will learn to apply CRM concepts to various operational situations, employing crew resource management skills in everyday scenarios to prevent errors and enhance overall safety.
