Long-Term Incentive Design Training Course

Ref.: 15822_329382 Date: 17 - 21 Aug 2026 Location: London (UK) Fees: 5800 Euro

Introduction:

The Long-Term Incentive Design training course provides an understanding of structuring and implementing an effective long-term incentive LTI that aligns with corporate goals and enhances employee motivation, engagement, and retention. As organizations seek to attract top talent and foster loyalty among key employees, an LTI program aligns individual performance with the company's strategic vision and sustainable growth.

This Long-Term Incentive Design course will explore best practices, regulatory considerations, and innovative approaches to designing LTIs that balance short-term and long-term organizational objectives. Participants will gain the skills to develop, evaluate, and adapt LTI structures that support the company's financial and cultural goals while meeting employee expectations and shareholder interests.

The Long-Term Incentive Design training course provides in-depth knowledge of long-term incentive design, helping professionals to structure effective long-term incentive plans. This course explores the meaning and definition of long-term incentives, focusing on strategies that align company goals with employee performance over extended periods.

Participants in this Long-Term Incentive Design program will learn about different types of long-term incentives, including executive long-term incentive plans, and how to design them to ensure competitive long-term incentive compensation. Key topics include structuring long-term incentive bonuses and designing a plan that motivates top executives and employees for long-term success.
